PROCARE HOSPICE OF NEVADA NAMES NATIONALLY RECOGNIZED HOSPICE EXPERT KEITH EVERETT AS NEW CEO

LAS VEGAS, NV (DEC. 9, 2024) – In a move that underscores its vision to transform the cultural perceptions of advanced illness care, ProCare Hospice of Nevada (PCH) proudly announces Keith Everett as its new Chief Executive Officer. Everett, a proven leader in hospice care, most recently served as the President and CEO of Hospice of Acadiana in Lafayette, Louisiana.

Everett’s career is defined by his unwavering commitment to improving healthcare systems and fostering compassionate, community-focused advanced illness care. He has guided organizations to success by championing a “Patients and Family First” model that prioritizes dignity, inclusion, and excellence at every level. Through his visionary leadership, Everett has not only strengthened operational frameworks but also cultivated environments where communities feel supported and empowered, ensuring that patients and families receive exceptional care during life’s most profound moments.

“My vision for ProCare Hospice is simple: it’s about doing everything, and I mean everything, with a level of excellence that leaves nothing to chance,” Everett said. “We’re not here to just provide care; we’re here to redefine it. Every interaction, every detail, every decision—nothing is too small to be great at. This isn’t just about care; this is about creating the standard so exceptional that everything else will measure itself against us. That’s the vision, and that’s the mission.”

ProCare Hospice of Nevada owner and CFO, Greg Walski, said, “We couldn’t be more excited to welcome Keith to the ProCare family. As we continue to grow and advance our mission to deliver professional, dignified advanced illness care with the deep compassion ProCare is known for, Keith’s leadership will be pivotal. Keith’s leadership will not only ensure ProCare’s continued growth but will also deepen our ability to serve the community with the quality and compassion they deserve.”

For Everett, hospice care is deeply personal. “I was drawn to this work from personal experience with my father falling through the cracks of a broken health system and eventually being placed on hospice and having a beautiful experience,” Everett added. “Hospice provides me the unique opportunity to offer dignity, compassion, and humanity during life’s most profound moments. It’s about ensuring that no one faces the end of life alone or without exceptional care.”

About ProCare Hospice of Nevada

ProCare Hospice of Nevada (PCH) is a family-owned and operated hospice, serving both adult and pediatric populations. For over twelve years, we have worked to improve the quality of life for those in our care. The core of the hospice care philosophy is that the care is patient and family-centered. Hospice care does not prolong life nor hasten death but works to treat the person and their loved ones with comfort and dignity.

Our mission is to be a steady hand, a comforting voice, and a valued partner in life’s hardest yet most meaningful journey, ensuring every moment matters. For more information, visit www.procarehospice.com.
